

Luke DeSmet Bio

My name is Luke DeSmet. I grew up in Montague, Michigan. I received a bachelor's degree in Biosystems Engineering at Michigan State University with an ecosystem's concentration. After graduating I took the opportunity to work for Oracle in Chicago to gain software experience. I spent 5 years there before moving back to West Michigan where I took a job as the environmental engineer for an automotive parts manufacturing facility. I have since transitioned into my current role as a sound and vibration engineer for a French company named OROS.

I enjoy an active lifestyle with my golden retriever Prairie Dog. My favorite activity being sailing.
